THE RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH VAPING AMONG YOUTH ARE PRESENTED IN A STORYLINE OF THE HIT SERIES 'RAVEN'S HOME,' PREMIERING SUNDAY, MARCH 1, ON DISNEY CHANNEL

"Raven's Home" will spotlight the risks associated with vaping among youth in a topical episode that's especially relevant to kids age 6-14 and their families, SUNDAY, MARCH 1 (8:00 p.m. EST/PST), on Disney Channel. Immediately following the episode, a special message from the cast will be seen on Disney Channel and Disney Channel YouTube. The episode and message were developed under the consultancy of Hollywood, Health & Society, who brought in experts from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and USC, among others.

In the episode "What About Your Friends," Booker's new friends pressure him to try vaping, but he turns them down and warns them about the dangers. They don't listen and when Coach Spitz finds a vape pen, the boys all claim it belongs to Booker and he is suspended. While a disappointed Raven seeks to understand what's going on with her son, Booker sets out to clear his name.

"What About Your Friends" was written by Latonya Croff and directed by "Raven's Home" executive producer/showrunner Warren Hutcherson.
