

BIOGRAPHY

LIZ HELDENS

Executive Producer on ABC's "Will Trent"

Liz Heldens grew up in San Francisco and began her television career as a writer on "Boston Public." She then went on to serve as co-executive producer on "Friday Night Lights." She was the creator, executive producer and showrunner on medical drama "Mercy," crime drama "Deception," sci-fi thriller "The Passage," and network dramedies "Camp" and "The Big Leap." She also was an executive producer of FOX's "The Orville" and Hulu's "The Dropout."

-- 2024 --