ABC News*

ABC News' "20/20" co-anchor Deborah Roberts reports on the harrowing tale of a bride taken too soon and a love story built on lies in an all-new episode of "20/20"'s limited true crime series "Bad Romance," airing Tuesday, April 8 (10:01-11:00 p.m. EDT) on ABC and streaming the next day on Hulu.

Just two days before Molly Watson was set to marry her love of seven years, James Addie, a passing motorist found her shot to death on a quiet Missouri road, her marriage license still in the back seat of her car. When police notified her fiancé, they were met at the door ... by his wife. Authorities soon discovered an elaborate plan of deception crafted by Addie. Upon further investigation, police learned there were no lengths to how far Addie would go to conceal his biggest secret.

"Bad Romance" is hosted by ABC News contributor and ESPN analyst Ryan Smith. Now in its second season, the series reveals shocking true crime stories of love turned lethal over the years and features interviews with individuals involved in some of the most deadly and twisted obsessions.
