Good tidings Freeform brings, as the network celebrates the adored seasonal tradition of "25 Days of Christmas." The programming event returns to spread holiday cheer starting SUNDAY, DEC. 1.

A delightful collection of Christmas favorites is being offered to make spirits bright, including “Home Alone,” “The Santa Clause” trilogy and “Dr. Seuss’ How the Grinch Stole Christmas” (2000). Select airings of perennial favorite “Home Alone” will incorporate “pop-up” facts about the classic holiday movie.

Jingle all the way with Disney family classics like “Frozen,” the “Toy Story” franchise and “Disney’s A Christmas Carol.” Other holiday faves airing throughout the month include “Mickey’s Once Upon a Christmas,” “Miracle on 34th Street” (1994), “Arthur Christmas,” plus Rankin-Bass’ beloved specials, “Frosty the Snowman,” “Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer” and “Santa Claus Is Comin’ to Town,” plus much more!

Plus, the merry lineup features a network premiere featuring the Queen of Christmas herself, “Mariah Carey’s All I Want for Christmas Is You,” as well as “Dashing Through the Snow” (2023) and “Santa’s Little Helper” (2015).

Last year, “25 Days of Christmas” reached nearly 37 million viewers. Freeform also ranked as the No. 1 cable entertainment network during the event for the 11th time in the past 12 years among Adults 18-49 and Adults 18-34.*
