

INES DE LA CUETARA

ABC News Multiplatform Reporter

Ines de La Cuetara is an ABC News multiplatform reporter based in Paris. She reports on “World News Tonight with David Muir,” “Good Morning America,” “Nightline,” “ABC News Live Prime” and “ABC News Live.”

De La Cuetara has reported on a range of foreign stories, including the Israel-Hamas war, the war in Ukraine, Pope Francis and the death of former Pope Benedict XVI, Queen Elizabeth II’s funeral, and many natural disasters.

Before joining the foreign team, De La Cuetara spent over six years covering U.S. politics for ABC News. She has reported from 43 states as a campaign embed during the 2016 presidential campaign, covered the 2020 presidential campaign and former president Donald Trump’s impeachments, and was on the ground during the Jan. 6 insurrection at the U.S. Capitol.

De La Cuetara has received multiple Emmy® Award nominations.

De La Cuetara is a dual French and American citizen who speaks fluent French and Spanish. She received her master’s degree from the Columbia School of Journalism and her bachelor’s in political science from McGill University.